

Update September 2011

Come Visit NBDC at the 2011 Nunavut Trade Show

On September 28th and 29th, the NBDC team will be available to meet and answer questions at booth # 114 at the 2011 Nunavut Trade Show, taking place in the Arctic Winter Game Complex in Iqaluit. Drop by to learn about Nunavut's broadband infrastructure and the key partners that make it all possible. Find out what's planned for the future and how it affects you.

And be sure to fill out NBDC's broadband survey for Nunavut residents for a chance to win an iPad 2!

Digital Video and Digital Voice Launch at Nunavut Trade Show

For the past several months, SSI Micro has been beta testing Meet Online Business (MOB), a single-point desktop solution to allow individuals to conduct affordable face-to-face video conference meetings. This new digital video service will be showcased at this year's Nunavut Trade Show in Iqaluit, September 28-29, 2011. Also in the Meet Online suite of services, SSI is introducing new digital voice products to the home and mobile phone markets in Nunavut. Both the video and phone services are optimized for the QINIQ network, and utilize dedicated satellite capacity made possible by NBDC's Infrastructure II project.

A corporate video conferencing solution, Meet Online Enterprise, was introduced at the 2010 Nunavut Trade Show. This service is designed to improve productivity in the workplace, reduce the need for travel and lower operational costs such as long distance phone charges between offices. Visit the SSI booth at this year's Nunavut Trade Show for a demonstration or contact Sean Rorison at rorison@qiniq.com.
